Cadorath Receives Rolls-Royce M250 First Network Award for Their Outstanding Partnership Category

Rolls-Royce handed out the yearly M250 First Network Awards on January 27th in Anaheim, California. This year Cadorath received the inaugural award for Outstanding Partnership from Rolls-Royce. The First Network includes all AMROC, AMC, ARF and AMOF facilities globally for the Rolls-Royce M250 line of turbine engines.

The Outstanding Partnership award is presented to a facility in recognition of being an enabling partner and thereby integral to the overall success of the Rolls-Royce FIRST Network. Further, this facility is recognized as a critical partner to market success by consistently developing innovative and cost-effective capabilities to support the Operator, the FIRST Network and Rolls-Royce.

“The Rolls-Royce M250 award is a representation of the long-standing dedication of our employees who provide the industry with the best products and services available, without whom this award would not have been possible,” stated David R. Haines, Chief Operating Officer of Cadorath. “We would also like to thank our First Network Partners for nominating Cadorath for this award.”

Cadorath will continue on with their commitment to deliver innovative solutions and provide outstanding customer support.
